Dr. Joely Kaufman is a board certified dermatologist and the Director of Skin Associates of South Florida, in Coral Gables. She served as full time faculty at the University's department of dermatology and cutaneous surgery for 7 years, where she is still active as a voluntary clinical Associate Professor, teaching residents and fellows injection and laser techniques. She is extensively involved in clinical research at the Skin Research Institute and is a Principal investigator on several clinical trials in dermatology, including FDA pivotal studies on neuromodulators, fillers and devices for the aesthetic market.

Dr. Kaufman is a leader in the field of Cosmetic Dermatology and has authored and contributed to numerous peer reviewed publications on aesthetic technologies and techniques. She serves as a consultant to companies developing new additions to this market. She lectures nationally and internationally on aesthetic procedures in dermatology including toxins, fillers and lasers. Dr. Kaufman has practices in Miami, New York and now also in Aspen.

Dr Kaufman will design a regimen using different fillers, neuromodulators, threads, peels, and skincare products for the optimal outcome. The signature Skin Associates 'Sneaky lift' can help lift the face without the appearance of 'filler'.

We focus on a natural overall rejuvenation using an array of specially selected FDA approved products.
